

Xenia Vassiliadis*Director, Head of Investment Banking, Greece

Xenia Vassiliadis is a Director and Head of Investment Banking for Greece at Barclays Capital. Based in London, she is responsible for the origination of financing and risk management solutions for the firm's corporate and public sector clients in Greece.

Ms Vassiliadis joined Barclays Capital in January 2007 from The Ministry of National Defense, Greece where she was the Economic Advisor. Prior to that, she worked at Deutsche Bank.

Ms Vassiliadis graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Illinois in Chicago.