

Manuel Esparrago, Brussels Manager of the Remote Gambling Association (RGA),

Since 2008, Manuel Esparrago is the Brussels Manager of the Remote Gambling Association (RGA), which he represents in all contacts at EU level and in some European jurisdictions. A graduate in Law from the University of Corunna (Spain), he completed his education with a Master in European Studies at the French-speaking University of Louvain (Belgium). After spending two years at the representation of the Spanish region of Galicia in Brussels and a training period at the European Commission's DG Internal Market, he worked for four years at the European hunting federation, where, as deputy secretary-general, he was in charge of legal and public affairs issues. A Spanish native speaker, he is fluent in English, French and Portuguese and has language capabilities in German and Italian.