

Χρήστος Γαλλής, Εμπορικός Διευθυντής Κεντρικής και Ανατολικής Ευρώπης, Sandoz (Novartis)

Christos Gallis is the Head Sales and Marketing for The Central and Eastern European region for Sandoz (Novartis), comprising of 32 countries. Previously, he was the Managing Director for Johnson and Johnson for the Czech and Slovak republics. He has worked in a number of countries and in various commercial and general management assignments. He has graduated with distinction from the School of Economics at the University of Athens, where he founded the local chapter of the AISEC, and from the University of Chicago, from where he received his MBA with honors and was the President of the European Business Students Association.